Dear Mr. Hayes:

Our friend, Mike Moncrief, recently sent me a copy of Sports 'n Spokes, which featured an article on wheelchair basketball. Basketball is indeed a great sport, and it's great to see a Texas team out in front setting the standard.

I commend you and the Movin' Mavs for demonstrating in grand style that having a disability doesn't necessarily mean the end of athletic achievement and competitive sports. I'm pleased to see a group of young men enjoy themselves and at the same time break down stereotypical thinking.

Once again, congratulations on your outstanding leadership and accomplishment!

Sincerely,
