Dear Jim:

Words cannot begin to adequately describe the jubilation both Mike and I feel about the Movin' Mavs recent invitation by President Clinton.

To be the first intercollegiate wheelchair basketball team to ever be honored by the White House is a tribute to you and your team. The Movin' Mavs are indeed an inspiration to all those faced with a disability. Through you, others will be able to see past their limitations and push themselves to greatness.

Both Mike and I are truly proud to be part of this auspicious event and look forward joining the nation as we salute you and the Movin' Mavs for your courage, determination and tenacity. There is nothing more humbling than to witness firsthand the phenomenon of the Movin' Mavs as they continue to face adversity and win championships time and time again.

Thank you for your friendship and inspiration of strength. We are indebted to you for teaching us the true meaning of spirit.

Your friend always,

Rosie Moncrief
