

Two-wheelers to hit boards

It ain't necessarily so that basketball has become a sport for seven-foot giants. It's also a sport for two-wheeled students, and the Educational Support Services Office wants to prove it.

The ESSO-sponsored team will play a similar squad from the University of Houston at 7:30 p.m. November 30 in Texas Hall.

EESO director Jim Hayes has planned the event as part of Homecoming activities and is hoping for 5,000 attendance. Pregame, halftime and postgame entertainment will be announced later.

Last year the team had a 19-3 record, the only losses being twice to a Dallas professional team and once to UH. This year the team is undefeated, posting victories of 70-10 over Pacht Hall and 57-12 over Brazos.

Tickets are $1 and all proceeds go to the ESSO scholarship fund.