Dear Consumer:

12/95

Thank you for contacting REACH of Dallas for information about accessible housing. Dallas Housing Authority (DHA) accepts applications for elderly/disabled housing on Monday (8-12, 2-6 for general population) or Friday (8-12 for people with disabilities only) IN PERSON ONLY (unless you have a Power of Attorney for the applicant). It is located at 3939 N. Hampton Rd., Dallas (214) 951-8330/951-8445. I am also sending you a list of HUD complexes that are subsidized by the government so that you only need to pay one third of your income for rent if you fall within its eligibility guidelines, as is also the case with DHA. (If you receive SSI, you automatically qualify.) In addition, Housing Crisis Center and Shared Housing information are also included in this packet.

You will need to apply separately at each HUD complex in which you are interested in living. Don't assume your application will be shared with other apartment managers. Also, after applying at a complex, you will be put on a waiting list (which could be for a year or more), you will need to call them at least every 90 days to tell them you are still interested, or your name could be withdrawn from the waiting list without your knowledge. (Each complex has its own policy: some will send a written request to be eligible to continue on their waiting list and you will need to make sure it is sent back to them.)

Many complexes have wheelchair accessible units. With no strict standards for accessibility guidelines until the last few years, there have been many interpretations as to what constitutes "accessibility." To ensure your needs are met, you will need to visit the complex in question before making any decision, or have someone who is familiar with accessibility standards to measure doorways, heights of sinks and counter tops, see if there is adequate space under the sink for your chair, adequate ramps, and access to laundry equipment, etc. If you need specific suggested measurements, REACH would be happy to provide further information.

REACH offers an array of services which you are welcome to explore. I am enclosing a REACH brochure for your perusal. Many other materials and resources are available upon request, including an extensive library and an employment program to help people with disabilities find jobs. We also write Social Security Work Incentives to help you keep your Social Security, Medicaid, and/or Medicare benefits from one to four years while you go to school and/or work, and your additional income will not disqualify you from receiving benefits during that time. I hope this information is helpful to you. Feel free to call if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Dale Pfefferkorn, Outreach/Advocacy Coordinator

CRISIS
CENTER

Programs of the Housing Crisis Center

serving North Texas since 1978

Dallas Tenants' Association HomePower for Women West Dallas Shelter

The purpose of the Housing Crisis Center is to prevent homelessness and to stabilize families, the elderly, and the disabled in decent, affordable, permanent housing by providing counseling, education, legal and rental assistance and by operating a 16 unit shelter for families who are already homeless. Three major programs of the Housing Crisis Center address these goals:

1. West Dallas Shelter: Families with children who are already homeless when they come to us may be housed for up to 90 days in the Shelter. During their stay they receive counseling on budgeting and individual problems, classes on educational opportunities, drug abuse and prevention, nutrition, techniques for interviewing for jobs and housing, and other services the family members may require. They are referred to other programs such as English as a Second Language, child care, and food programs. The major goal, which is almost always attained, is that they be permanently housed when they leave our shelter.
2. HomePower: The HomePower program serves the elderly, disabled, and families with children, particularly those headed by single mothers. The children in these families are our poorest children, and need help to stabilize them in a permanent home and school. This is done through budget counseling and a host of other educational services to meet individual needs. Classes are conducted on the subjects described for the Shelter. Rental and other emergency assistance is also an integral part of the HomePower program.
3. Dallas Tenants' Association: This arm of the Center works to educate and advise tenants and landlords about their rights and responsibilities. It consists of
 - a. Telephone hotline (828-4244): Telephone counselors answer questions about landlord-tenant problems and route callers to other programs of the Center.
 - b. Weekly workshops / legal clinics: Pro bono lawyers and tenant counselor volunteers give advice on tenant and housing problems at the Wednesday workshop, 6-8 at Oak Lawn United Methodist Church, 3014 Oak Lawn, and at the Saturday workshop, 10-12 at the Brady Center, 4009 Elm. Two seminars for social service providers, covering housing issues and landlord-tenant law are held each year, as are seminars for attorneys, and for managers and owners of rental property.
 - c. Legal representation: Low income clients with valid defenses may be represented by staff and volunteer attorneys when they are being evicted. The first priority is families, the elderly, and disabled persons being evicted from subsidized housing. These persons will become homeless when they lose their subsidy, since they cannot afford market rent.

Transitional, Intergenerational Group Residence FACT SHEET

WHAT IS TRANSITIONAL, INTERGENERATIONAL GROUP RESIDENCE?

The group residence is an environment for several unrelated individuals and/or their families to live in one house, share common areas such as kitchen and living room; and have their own private bedroom with private or semi-private baths.

The home is primarily for elderly individuals and single parent families promoting the intergenerational concept. The residents must be self sufficient in their own lifestyles, promoting a self-help, self-care and independent living environment.

The residence is for individuals who are homeless or near homeless, seeking affordable housing options, not rehabilitation services. Statistically, the residence is modeled to assist the individual through a transition period of their life not to exceed 12 months.

WHAT IS THE PROCESS?

Individuals interested in the group residence must complete an application and be screened for references and criminal records. If accepted, the resident will be required to complete an agreement with us, acknowledging the length of time, house rules and plan of action towards seeking permanent, affordable housing.

There is a rental fee of $100.00 or 30% of their income, which ever is lesser, per month to be collected. Single parent families must be employed or employable; the elderly may work and/or have a source of income.

WHAT ABOUT THE MANAGEMENT?

The group residence is owned and operated by Shared Housing Center, Inc. a 501 (c)(3) non-profit organization with 4 years experience in successfully placing elderly and single parent families in mutually beneficial shared-living arrangements.

The group residence will be supervised by staff, assuring maintenance, sanitation and safety. Everyday household chores are the responsibility of each resident. Volunteers will be available to assist the residents throughout their stay in counseling, budgeting, and special needs. Staff will also be responsible for case management regarding screening new applicants and placing exiting residents in a more permanent living situation.

HOW IS IT FUNDED?

The following Foundations and organizations contributed to the support for development, acquisition, rehabilitation and/or operations: Hillcrest Foundation, ARCO Foundation, Meadows Foundation, Harold Simmons Foundation, Hoblitzelle Foundation, Southwestern Bell, TU Electric, Zonta Club of Dallas II, Dallas Women's Foundation and an anonymous donor.

WHO CAN I CONTACT ABOUT THE GROUP RESIDENCE?

DALLAS HOUSING AUTHORITY PROGRAMS

There are several housing programs for which you may qualify.

Low income (public) housing is for the general public with low income who meet DHA qualifications. The waiting list depends on whether or not you qualify for a Federal Preference and how many bedrooms you need, but can be from 30 days (5 bedroom) to 18 months (2 bedrooms).

Senior Housing (for elderly and disabled) are high-rises (as compared to "the projects" for public housing. This is for individuals or couples with no children or other dependents 50+ years or older or for people with disabilities. There is currently a 60-90 day waiting period for a typical opening. These are one and two bedroom apartments so a individual with a disability could accommodate a personal care attendant.

There are Federal Preferences which can raise someone on a waiting list.

1. If someone is involuntarily displaced--the owner went bankrupt, fire, flood, natural disaster--something that is not your fault.)
2. Substandard housing--the conditions in your apartment are such that neighborhood services requires you to move out...or if you are homeless and living in a shelter.
3. Rent burden--if you are currently paying over 50% of your monthly income on rent and utilities.

DHA also has several other programs which may be of interest.

Turn Key Homebuyers Program--for families who would like to eventually own their own home. Must be eligible for a 3-4 bedroom unit, have good credit, work history of at least 1 year, and sufficient income for rent and utilities. Can lease and put monthly payments (which goes into an escrow) toward a down payment on the house. If you lose your job, you can move back into public housing.

VASH--Veterans Affairs Supportive Housing--special arrangement between HUD and VA for 1 bedroom eligible, homeless, vets, with psychiatric/drug abuse problems, and be in counseling with VA. These are special Section 8 certificates.

Single Room Occupancy Program--Must be single, and would be willing to live in a dormitory-type setting. Each person gets his/her own bedroom and apartment size refrigerator. Kitchen and living area are shared down the hall. Wheelchair accessibility is not certain.

Family Unification Program--Must have ongoing case with Child Protective Services and be in danger of being separated or are separated due to lack of housing.

HOUSING CRISIS CENTER

Programs of the Housing Crisis Center

serving North Texas since 1978

Dallas Tenants' Association HomePower for Women West Dallas Shelter

The purpose of the Housing Crisis Center is to prevent homelessness and to stabilize families, the elderly, and the disabled in decent, affordable, permanent housing by providing counseling, education, legal and rental assistance and by operating a 16 unit shelter for families who are already homeless. Three major programs of the Housing Crisis Center address these goals:

1. West Dallas Shelter: Families with children who are already homeless when they come to us may be housed for up to 90 days in the Shelter. During their stay they receive counseling on budgeting and individual problems, classes on educational opportunities, drug abuse and prevention, nutrition, techniques for interviewing for jobs and housing, and other services the family members may require. They are referred to other programs such as English as a Second Language, child care, and food programs. The major goal, which is almost always attained, is that they be permanently housed when they leave our shelter.
2. HomePower: The HomePower program serves the elderly, disabled, and families with children, particularly those headed by single mothers. The children in these families are our poorest children, and need help to stabilize them in a permanent home and school. This is done through budget counseling and a host of other educational services to meet individual needs. Classes are conducted on the subjects described for the Shelter. Rental and other emergency assistance is also an integral part of the HomePower program.
3. Dallas Tenants' Association: This arm of the Center works to educate and advise tenants and landlords about their rights and responsibilities. It consists of
 - a. Telephone hotline (828-4244): Telephone counselors answer questions about landlord-tenant problems and route callers to other programs of the Center.
 - b. Weekly workshops / legal clinics: Pro bono lawyers and tenant counselor volunteers give advice on tenant and housing problems at the Wednesday workshop, 6-8 at Oak Lawn United Methodist Church, 3014 Oak Lawn, and at the Saturday workshop, 10-12 at the Brady Center, 4009 Elm. Two seminars for social service providers, covering housing issues and landlord-tenant law are held each year, as are seminars for attorneys, and for managers and owners of rental property.
 - c. Legal representation: Low income clients with valid defenses may be represented by staff and volunteer attorneys when they are being evicted. The first priority is families, the elderly, and disabled persons being evicted from subsidized housing. These persons will become homeless when they lose their subsidy, since they cannot afford market rent.

Fair Housing means housing without illegal discrimination. You have the same right to housing of your choice as others without regard to your race, color, religion, sex, national origin, handicap or familial status. Familial status means that you have children under the age of 18 in your family. If you believe that someone has refused to rent or sell to you or that you have been treated unfairly while trying to obtain housing because of one of the above, you may file a complaint.

ILLEGAL HOUSING ACTIONS

City, state and federal fair housing laws prohibit the following acts if they occur because of your race, color, religion, sex, handicap (mental or physical), familial status (families with children) or national origin:

- ☐ Refusing to show you housing or refusing to sell or rent to you;
- ☐ Treating you differently than others when you are buying or renting housing or providing you with different services from others;
- ☐ Advertising housing as being available to only certain people;
- ☐ Telling you that an apartment or house is not for rent, sale or inspection when it really is available or showing you apartments or houses in only certain areas;
- ☐ Threatening, bullying, harassing or interfering with you when you are acting within your rights under these laws;
- ☐ Persuading landlords or owners to rent or sell their units by telling them that persons of a particular type are moving into the complex or neighborhood;
- ☐ Treating you differently in appraising, financing and other real estate related activities;
- ☐ Denying a handicapped person the right to make reasonable and necessary changes to their house or apartment;
- ☐ Refusing to allow reasonable exceptions in rules so that a handicapped person can enjoy their house or apartment;
- ☐ Designing or building new apartments which are not accessible to people with handicaps.

There are exceptions in the law for certain situations and types of housing. If you have questions about a particular experience, call the Fair Housing Office.
