Dear Mr. Smith:

Thank you for your letter of June 14th regarding Shirley. I do not believe that I could suggest any change in diet which may effect the growth of the ear cartilage, but it would help considerably I believe if you could get her to increase the amount of milk daily. You say it does not agree with her, but I would try gradually to increase the amount she could use. I think a well regulated diet is all, however, that is necessary as nature pretty well will take care of this in the course of time.

Yours very truly,

James T. Mills, M. D.
